Bearcats Meet Springfield In Tomorrow

Hill Eleven Is Favored in the Teachers Meeting Game Tomorrow Night

GOND M.I.A.A. ENCOUNTER

Goldmounds and former students will have a chance to see a model of the Bearcat machine in action at the coming game tomorrow night. Hill will be pitted against the Bears in an M.I.A.A. rendering. The kickoff time is 7 p.m. on the College field.

W. H. Head coach in charge, and the alumni are anxiously awaiting the opportunity to observe perhaps judge the play of the football machine.

The Bears have been drilling all week in an attempt to polish up rough edges and should give the homecoming crowd plenty to work on.

Kirkville football warriors came through Kirkville battle of Friday night in good shape. The first string men who were on heavy duty limited service last year are ready for heavy duty to-night. Bob Rogers, center back, who hasn't appeared in Bearcat lineup this season because of an injury, is back in now and probably will not be (Continued on page 8)

Red Musicians Ease Audience In Concert Tuesday

John Kryl and Mary McCormick present Outstanding Programs Here

The greatest cornetist in the world, John Kryl, has been invited to an audience of teachers who gathered at the College on Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium to hear him, that he still was the title, even after forty years of concert life.

John Kryl, famed conductor of the Symphony Orchestra presented an inspiring program.

Music students in particular were delighted with the dignity and manner of the conductor which were expressed through the graceful but commanding motions of arms and body leading this fine orchestra. The commanding presence of the man, the flowing hair, twinkling blue eyes and peculiar smile that seemed to play around his mouth to produce that rare smile accompanied every movement on the stage and inspired a great amount of confidence from the audience.

Listening to Kryl's interpretation, masterfully conceived and drawn from the gems of the great masters, we are prompted to comment said of him many,

"His music is, after all, in taste, tone, and execution... he is truly a masterpiece."

"Miniatures" by Paul Kryl, incidentally a son-in-law of Kryl, proved to be among the most interesting and popular pieces of the listeners. Done in a smaller size, each selection gave a "real image." The final number series "Mosquito Dance," was quite realistic, making even the worst unbeliever actually hear mosquitoes swarming in the air.

Mary McCormick, guest artist with the symphony, delighted her audience with a charming stage personality that was excelled only by the tone of her lovely lyric soprano voice. C. L.

Horace Mann Plaque On Display Here

A plaque in honor of Horace Mann, the "Father of Public School Education," is at present on display in the case at the right in ascending the staircase at the south side of the Administration building on the second floor.

The plaque depicts the work of the famous educator in the year 1837, and celebrates the centennial of his work. The plaque, a plaster replica of the original done by Lorado Taft, Chicago sculptor, is a gift of the Class of 1937. It will be placed in the new training school building to be erected in the near future and which will bear the name, "Horace Mann School."

Walter Rulon, instructor in the Essex, Ia., high school, was president of the class which presented the plaque as a gift to the College.

Program Began Last Night With General Session in College Auditorium

LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

The twentieth annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri District Teachers Association opened last evening, in the College auditorium. Dr. Joseph P. Kelly, chairman of the department of speech, presided at the program which was the first general session.

A short musical program was given by the College conservatory of music. Miss Marian Kirk, Hopkins, violin pupil of Miss Allene Fentress, played two solos accompanied by Miss Marian Kerr of the conservatory of music. Miss Kirk played "Romance" by Wieniawski, and "Elves Dance" by Jenkinson.

The musical program was concluded by a group of selections by the upperclasswomen's trio, composed of Helen Shipman, Mound City, Belle Ward, Bethany, and Alice Woodside, Independence, and coached by Miss Marian Kerr. The trio sang the following: "Gute Nichte," "In Luxemburg Gardens," "The Lamplighter," and "You Are Free."

Dean J. C. Miller Talks On Teacher Retirement Plans

Says All of Us Should Take Active Interest in Some Form of Old Age Security

"Every teacher should take an active interest in some form of retirement legislation," Dr. J. C. Miller, dean of the faculty, told members of the American Association of University Professors in their first meeting of the year, Sept. 29.

Stating that his own preference was for a state-wide, joint-contributory system, in which membership would be compulsory, Dean Miller also recommended that teachers not rely too heavily or solely upon a potential retirement system which had been arranged for them by the public. "It is possible," he remarked, "and desirable particularly for young people to begin at once some kind of annuity scheme with a reputable insurance concern, thereby creating for themselves a safe and sound protection for old age."

Starting with the assumption that security against need in old age is as desirable for teachers as it has been assumed to be for other workers in this country, Dean Miller outlined the arguments for teachers retirement legislation.

"The primary object," he said, "is, of course, the improvement of the schools. It goes without saying that most teachers do view the whole question from a professional stand-

It Looks Like a Big Time, Folks

Soup and fish, native Filipino dances and segregation form the motif for the annual faculty-student she-bang Thursday evening, Oct. 21, in Residence Hall.

The soup and fish will mostly be displayed by the faculty members who have spent the week getting the moth ball smell out of formal rags.

The native dances will be furnished by the charming Misses Santos, Benitez and Alano, lately arrived at S.T.C. from the Philippine Islands.

A wish to get the freshmen to bed early is probably the reason why they are requested to attend the reception from 8 to 9 o'clock. The juniors will attend at that time also to look after the yearlings. Seniors, who don't matter much, and sophomores, who matter less, will attend from 9 until 10.

It looks like a big time, folks.

Interesting Exhibit, Owned by Dr. Painter and Dr. Lowery Is on Library Balcony

An unusual exhibition of manuscripts and early printing has been on display for some time at the south portion of the balcony of the College library. It has been said that there is no other display of its kind in any other Teachers College in the State of Missouri.

Not only is it interesting in that it is a rare collection, but it is some of the most beautiful and highly colored manuscripts in existence. A collection which is owned by the Catholic College at Conception, is perhaps the only one which might equal the one here at the College.

The exhibition itself consists of interesting reproductions and facsimiles, as well as some original pages illustrating early block printing, and printing from movable type from various countries where printing was first introduced.

In one corner of the showcase is a map showing the location and distribution of printing presses in the fifteenth century. The only cities of the British Isles marked on the map are Westminster, Oxford, St. Albans and London. Curiously, printing reached England the latest (Continued on page 8)

Bearcats and Bulldogs Play 0-0 Tie Here

In Downpour of Rain and on Muddy Field Neither Team Is Able To Cross Goal Line

KIRKSVILLE THREATENS ONCE

The Maryville Bearcats and Kirksville Bulldogs battled to a scoreless tie last Friday night on the local field in a steady rain. The slippery condition of the ball made passes, which the Bearcats had been drilling on, go awry, forcing the Milner-men to running plays which gained 122 yards, as compared with 84 yards for the visitors.

Kirksville came dangerously close to a score early in the third quarter of the game when they recovered a Maryville fumble on the one-yard line. Two line plays failed to gain, after which Miller passed to Moody on the two-yard line, but the latter was stopped by Marion Rogers, Maryville guard. On the fourth down a running play was smothered behind the line of scrimmage, after which Bill Bernau, flashy halfback for Maryville, kicked out of danger.

Maryville threatened early in the game when Kious, Bearcat tackle, recovered a Kirksville fumble of a Maryville punt on the invader's 36-yard line. Norman Reital, Bearcat quarterback, got away to the 25-yard line, but Walden, Kirksville fullback, intercepted a pass on the next play to stop the Bearcat goalward drive.

Midway in the second period, Reital returned a punt ten yards to the Kirksville 42-yard line. After knifing through for three yards, Bernau passed 15 yards to Reital on the 24-yard line. Line plays and a Kirksville off-side made it first down on the 13-yard line. After two short gains, Maryville ball luggers, Bernau and Loos, were trapped behind the line losing the ball on downs.

Bad breaks in the last half kept the Bearcats in their own territory much of the time. After the successful goal defense in the third quarter, Maryville gained yards on punt exchanges only to be put on defense again when Bernau fumbled and recovered in time to get away a punt which netted only one yard, giving the Bulldogs the ball on the Maryville 45-yard line.

Miller, Kirksville halfback, was deadly with his passes, and equally deadly on his punts to "coffin corner."

Inability to keep their passes away from the enemy hurt the Bearcats. Six times the Bulldogs snagged Maryville passes to dampen a Bearcat offensive. Evidently Coach Fritz Faurot's pass defense drills the last week were not in vain.

Starting line-up:

Substitutions were: Kirksville—Grilli, Yaskiw, guards; Schwengels, Taylor, ends; Battaglier, tackle; Gregory, fullback; DeHart, Gaume, R. King, halfbacks. Maryville—Zuchowski, Walker, ends; Howell, Irvin, tackles; Brewer, full-back; Pandolfe, quarterback; Paisley, halfback; Loos, guard.

The summary:

First downs—Maryville 6, Kirksville 4; yards gained rushing—Maryville 122, Kirksville 84; forward passes attempted—Maryville 12, Kirksville 20; forward passes completed—Maryville 1, Kirksville 4; yards gained by forward passes—

Maryville 15, Kirksville 39; total yards gained—Maryville 137, Kirksville 123; forward passes intercepted—by Maryville 1, by Kirksville 6; punts—Maryville 10, averaging 32 yards, Kirksville 14, averaging 34 yards; punts returned by Maryville, 68 yards, by Kirksville 18 yards; fumbles by Maryville 2, by Kirksville 3; fumbles recovered by Maryville 4, by Kirksville 1; yards lost by penalties—Maryville 10, Kirksville 30; yards lost—Maryville 32, Kirksville 17.

The officials were: Cochrane, Chicago; O'Sullivan and Lee, Missouri.

Game Sidelights

Students of the College are to be complimented on the way they braved the rain, and the support they gave the team throughout the Bearcat-Bulldog game. Ditto for the "Uptown Quarterbacks."

Improved blocking by the Bearcats shows the progress being made by Coaches Milner and Stalcup in their long daily drills.

Seldom does the sports fan appreciate the officials in charge of a contest. However, many praises were voiced at the game on the work of Cochrane, O'Sullivan and Lee.

The line is usually thought of as the defensive part of a football team. The Bearcat line, however, was showing plenty of offensive power, judging from the size of the holes ripped in the opposing wall on rushing plays.

What about that cane? Do we get half of it for a year, or all of it for half a year, or what?

HERE'S the DOPE

When the smoke had cleared from two conference battles last Friday, Cape Girardeau, with an easy 33 to 0 victory over the Springfield Bears, was found on top of the heap. The scoreless tie played by Maryville and Kirksville did neither any good.

Maryville will play host tomorrow night to the Bears from Springfield. The Bearcats won last year, 13 to 0, and should do better in the ensuing battle. However, over-confidence by the Bearcats might prove fatal. A big homecoming crowd should attend this game.

The feature M.I.A.A. contest this week is at Warrensburg with the Rolla Miners furnishing the opposition. The Mules are the conference favorites; the Miners, the conference "dark horse." Last Friday Warrensburg bowed over Central at Fayette, 15 to 0, showing plenty of power when needed. Rolla was idle last week, thus improving the physical condition of the team. It's one of those "pay your money, take your choice," battles. Personally, my money's on the Mules.

Kirksville engages the East Texas Teachers in a non-conference tussle at home. No predictions made on this one. Kirksville showed improved pass defense here last Friday and if Fritz Faurot gets his running plays speeded up, the Bulldogs must be reckoned with in the title chase.

Cape Girardeau enjoys an open date this week, pointing for future tilts. Cape's running plays, built around fleet Walt Metje and George Godwin may be just the thing to upset the dope bucket. One never knows—does one?

Everything at this stage of the race points to a real knockdown, drag-out battle, not being settled until late in November. Another possibility is a tie. One thing is certain. There are five good football teams in the M.I.A.A., any one being capable of rising to great heights at the opportune time.

Know Your Team

Are you getting that way too, Gates and Simpson? There must be something in the air.

When did you get your pin back, Jimmy? Saw you showing it to Rosy the other night.

Lynn Bickett, just why did you miss the pep rally the other night? Couldn't you play your horn?

"Pop" Smith has another new man this week. Its still a blonde, but this one is tall and different!!

Riddle had her date with Silva, in fact two of them. And he told her "so many sweet things in such a sweet way."

"Beat the bushes" is the cry heard at the dorm each night that Dunkie has a date with Molly.

Allen and Allen—a pretty good combination, at least of names. What say? Pretty good otherwise, too.

Dance on your feet Paul Strohm and not on other parts of your body.

Stephenson, Davidson and Kelso sorta stepped out the other night. Nice going boys.

John Cox has hung his pin again—only this time it was for an hour instead of the customary two weeks. And while on the same subject, June has lost her Tri Sig pledge pin now. Maybe John is wearing it.

And having him call you "Mother" is getting pretty personal, isn't it Franny?

Its getting so cold the news is scarce, but after Homecoming!!

There is shown a reproduction of a page of the first completed book printed from the first printing press using movable type—the Mozaric or 42-line Bible printed by Gutenberg in 1455. This is also the most beautiful piece of printing even to-day.

There is a facsimile of an advertisement used by William Caxton, the first English printer, to announce his printing venture in England in 1477-78. It reads: "If it plese ony man spiritual or temporel to bye ony pyes of two and thre comemoracions of salisbury use enprytid after the forme of this perfect lettre whiche ben wel and truly correct, late hym come to Westmonester into the almoniesrye at the reed pale and he shal have them good chepe. College Purchases Two New Busses

The College has purchased two new busses, which are now being built and are to be delivered in the near future.

Bids were presented last month and the Arnold-Strong Motor Co. of Maryville was the low bidder. They have received the contract to supply the truck chassis, on which the bodies are being constructed.

The new cross country bus is a 25 passenger Diamond T. It will replace the Dodge now in use. The other is a 45-passenger Dodge to take the place of the old Buick.

Construction of the bus bodies is now underway at the Keystone Trailer and Equipment Company in Kansas City, Mo. The streamlined bodies are of all-steel construction and are practically crash proof. Floors are constructed of 9 and 14-gauge steel for further safety. They are covered with a heavy non-slip linoleum.

The interior of the bodies are completely panelled with 22-gauge steel and there is a 2 inch dead air space in the roof for better insulation.

Insulating material of fireproof sheathing is applied to the inside of these panels, which insulates the interior of the body against heat and cold.

Non-pinch safety doors are another feature of the new busses. They are arranged so there will be no danger of catching the rider's clothing or hands. Soft rubber strips on the joints of the doors prevent injury to the hands or fingers in case they caught as the door is closed. An emergency door at the rear of the body facilitates escape in case of accident.

Windows are of shatter-proof safety glass. By lowering from the top only half way, draughts are prevented and passengers may not put their arm out of the window. Vision is not hampered by bars or screens when this method of window opening is used.

Deeply upholstered, forward facing, seats, arranged along the sides, with an aisle in the center contribute to the comfort of the new vehicles. They are generously proportioned and set at a restful angle. Web-type polished aluminum grab handles on the aisle side of the seats are so designed as to avoid accidents from falling.

A beautiful color scheme has been worked out. This consists of an aluminum roof, green body triumped in cream stripes, with chrome and black accessories. Interiors are lacquered to harmonize with the exterior paint.

With the addition of these two new busses the College will be up to date with its transportation facilities.

THE TEACHER'S MEETING

Yesterday afternoon and this morning teachers from over the entire Northwest Missouri district came to Maryville, the mecca for the twentieth annual convention of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers Association. More than 1500 teachers, most of them former students of the College, are expected to attend the sessions of this year's district meeting—a number unusually large due to the fact that the greater number of teachers will not attend the state association meeting this year in St. Louis.

For the twentieth consecutive year, the College willingly surrenders its facilities to the teachers who will assemble here for the two-day convention. Speaking for every administrative officer, faculty member and student in the College, this newspaper states that we are happy to see the teachers back on the campus, and in extending our most hearty welcome we add that we hope your stay here this year is both profitable and pleasurable.

The Association met in Maryville for the first time November 1, 2 and 3, 1917, and at that meeting a few more than 500 district teachers were in attendance. This year there will be more than a thousand more than that number here for the convention. At the first meeting, however, a worthwhile program was provided, and it was at that time that officers of the Association resolved to provide the best available talent for future programs.

Officers of the Association this year have followed suit in choosing worthwhile talent for the meeting this week. A glance at the program will assure all attendants at sessions that the best has been obtained for the entertainment program.

Teachers or persons derive the greatest amount of their knowledge and technique in preparing for their professions from the classrooms and laboratories, but it is true that such addresses as shall be presented here these two days will extend and enrich our cultural lives. Experiences of persons who have "seen the sea" in their respective fields and related to those assembled in sessions of the teachers meeting will be of the greatest of value to members of the Association.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR STUDENTS

The faculty reception for students scheduled for next Thursday evening in Residence Hall is one of those opportunities which no student should miss. It is all too seldom that we get a chance to meet our professors outside of the classroom. Activities and studies take our time; research, preparation and families take theirs.

One of the great advantages to attending a small school is the more personal relationship between student and instructor. A small class is better than a large class, but even in the smallest there is, of necessity, a somewhat formal atmosphere.

That is, of course, avoided at a social gathering.

A freshman meets a dean on equal terms. A student meets professors he has never met. No exams are given, no questions asked which must be answered.

Social life, as Lois McCartney pointed out in assembly last week, is an important part of College life. The faculty reception should be a "must" for every student.

WE NEED A PEP SONG

Pep should be the motto of the student body at every football game. As Coach Wilbur Stalcup has pointed out, the pep displayed by the students can make or break a team. The student who does not attend games and back his team is a traitor.

It seems to us that a good, fast pep song would be a real addition to the present group of songs and yells. We believe the Alma Mater should be sung at the beginning of each game and at the end. But another song is needed to keep up enthusiasm between yells. Perhaps some of the students or faculty members in the music department could collaborate with some of our poets in remedying the situation.

THE U. S. AND THE FAR EAST

A new slant on the diplomatic difficulties of the world is being widely discussed at the present time. Last week the United States government, which heretofore had been comparatively silent on the various situations into which the countries of the world had blundered, formally condemned Japan as a treaty violator in China. This move immediately threw the U. S. support behind the League of Nations' efforts to halt the Far Eastern conflict.

As if a signal had been given statements were issued by influential dignitaries of approximately a dozen of the world powers. Some of them took advantage of the confusion raised by the U. S. action to express their sentiments about other difficulties and arguments; some of them issued statements agreeing with that of the U. S.; some assailed Italy for her intervention in the Spanish conflict, and others defended themselves against accusations that were being hurled to and fro. Immediately plans were in preparation for a League of Nations meeting.

Italy, Germany, and Japan have expressed their refusal to participate in any such gathering. Italy will not go because she has boycotted the League since the Ethiopian affair; Germany will not be in attendance because she is resentful towards the United States for selling munitions to Russia, just $10,000,000. worth this year; and of course Japan will not participate.

Ultimately something must happen. Every nation is involved in the alarming situation in some manner. Dire results may be expected when there are such diplomatic squabbles as there are today. It is to be hoped that the Sino-Japanese and the Spanish situations will be straightened out without involving any more of the world than is necessary. War in any section of the world affects us economically. It is a danger to the personal welfare of every citizen of the country. War is hateful, horrible, and barbarous.

If we are to survive—if civilization is to survive—it must be ended.

CAMPUS COMMENT

The book store was a popular place in the administration building the latter part of last week, for that is where students gathered to listen to the New York Yankees romp over the Giants from the world's greatest metropolis in the World Series baseball games.

* * * *

The student body is to be congratulated on its turn-out and its display of pep and enthusiasm at the Kirksville game last Friday night, despite adverse weather conditions. It is hoped that about four times that many will show up at the Springfield game tonight. Come on out, teachers, and help the student body "boost" the Bearcats to a victory over the Bears.

What do you consider constitutes an education? Extensive travel, reading, contact with learned individuals? Would it seem that a person who was unable to dance possessed a rounded education? Or one who was not at ease at a social function? A certain amount of our education is derived from books and another part is gotten from every day living. "Every person has two educations—one which he receives from others, and one, more important, which he gives himself."—Gibbon. Opportunities for us to give ourselves an education which we get from others will present themselves many times this week and it will be up to us to take advantage of them and hear the noted speakers who will appear here. It will certainly be worth the time and after all we are paying for it.

ATTENDING LAW SCHOOL

Marvin Steinmetz, Plattsburg, a student in the College in the years 1934-35 and 1935-36, is now enrolled in the law school of the University of Missouri in Columbia, according to word received here this week.

He relates that he is in the second year of the law school and that "it is the hardest course I have ever taken and I don't mean maybe." He studies from six to eight hours per day.

Steinmetz said of his crippled foot: "I had my foot straightened this summer so you can't tell anything is wrong except a small build up of the sole of the shoe."

"Retirement allowances for teachers are good investments of funds because they permit the tiring of incapacitated teachers out of hardship; because they transfer better talent into the profession. They hold the best that the service. They encourage the service to more efficient work and tend to promote thrift. They make employment more stable free the state from the possibility of supporting a number of superannuated people."

Stating that approximately 90 percent of the teachers in the States are now protected by some form of retirement allowance, Miller described in detail the features of existing plans.

The highest average superannuation or service payments are paid by the state of New Jersey, an average of $1413 a year, while Vermont pays the lowest, an average of $295. The most uniformious allowance paid by any state is paid by Detroit, $1200 a year to all teachers. In most of the states the allowance is about one-half the average salary.

Dean Miller concluded with a discussion of the Security Act. "We teachers," he said, "should give considerable attention to the fact that our benefits will be less if we were included in the Act than under many teachers' retirement systems. It would be better for us to form our own pension plan which provisions are more suited to our particular needs."

33 Million Students Enroll In Nation's Schools This Year

Attendance Has About Doubled Every Ten Years Since 1890

School doors are swinging open this month. The office of Education, U. S. Department of the Interior, reports that during this back-to school period 33,000,000 children and adults will be admitted to schools throughout the nation.

Elementary schools will enroll about 22,500,000 pupils, high schools approximately 6,500,000 students, and universities and colleges about 1,250,000 persons. All other schools enroll 2,750,000 persons.

State reports to the Office of Education reveals a slight but steady decrease each year since 1930-31 in public elementary school enrollments, a reflection of our country's falling birth rate. This year again a decrease of 1,000,000 elementary school pupils may be expected. There has been a decrease of 1,000,000 elementary school pupils since 1929-30.

H. S. and College Enrollments

High school enrollments in the United States have virtually doubled every 10 years since 1890. The 1890 high school enrollment of 203,000 pupils has climbed to more than 6,500,000, an all-time high for the secondary school population. Nevertheless, the percentage of increase in public high school registration has begun to decline, although the total number of students in secondary schools is still on the upward trend. There are about 1,735,000 more students in high school today than there were in 1929-30.

This year's army of persons seeking higher education in our colleges and universities, in all probability, will be the largest on record. Higher education institutions today register nearly 1,000 students per 100,000 population, or about 1 in every 100 persons. The Office of Education points out, however, that although the increase in college and university enrollments since 1900 has been very marked, the increase has been much less marked than that in high-school enrollments. In fact the percentage of high-school graduates entering college has been decreasing since 1900.

Teachers in Nation

A staff of 1,020,000 public and private school teachers instructs America's school population. For the nation as a whole there is one man teacher to every five women teachers. From 1930 to 1934, however, the number of men teachers in the public schools increased in all but two or three states.

Today's school teachers must be better qualified to do their work than they have been in the past, according to the Office of Education. During the last two years nine states have added an additional year of teaching preparation to the minimum requirements for certification of elementary teachers. Six states have raised the minimum requirements for high-school teacher certification. Graduates of teachers colleges and normal schools are again finding positions after a depression slump and over-supply of teachers. Teacher salaries, while very low in many communities, are quite generally back to pre-depression levels in most states. The average salary of city school teachers, latest records reveal, is $1,735, and of rural school teachers, $787 per year.

One-Room and New Schools

America's one-room school house is disappearing at the rate of seven or eight a day in favor of the more modern and frequently larger school building. Nevertheless, there are still 133,000 one-room school houses throughout the country. One-room school teachers receive $517 a year (median salary) for their services.

This school year, through Public Works Administration grants and loans, communities will be assisted in eliminating many more school houses that are "hazardous to life, safety, or health of children," and which, in many instances, provide poor facilities for both instruction and learning. Many school and other educational buildings erected with the aid of P.W.A. grants and loans also will be ready for occupancy and use for the first time this school year.

Publishes Poem In Catholic World

Dr. Blanche H. Dow, chairman of the department of foreign language is the author of a poem in the September number of the "Catholic World." Dr. Dow, writer of many articles and poems, is the author of a recently published work, "The Varying Attitude Toward Women in French literature of the Fifteenth Century." She is also state president of the American Association of University Women.

The poem follows:

RENEWAL

The night's soft black enfolds me tenderly,
A circling cloak that holds me slenderly
In strange, sweet peace!

Deep silence falls like balm upon my eyes,
And from the garden faint perfumes arise
Of young pear trees!

The day's sharp barbs now cease to tear my mind;
In quiet night I absolution find,
Complete release!

C.H.S. Penta Club Elects Officers

The membership committee is composed of Erma Thompson and Helen Purviance.

The members are divided into two sides, and each one is headed by a captain. The captains and teams are as follows: Captain, Ruth Pfander, team, Anna Heflin, Erba Thompson, Elmer Mitchell, Dorothy Johnson, Milton Burchett, and Nellie Faris. R. E. Kiou is the sponsor of the group.

The other team has Garvin Piatt for captain, Glen Rouse for sponsor, and Helen Purviance, Wilbur Hainline, Erma Thompson, Robert Hayden, Lloyd McClurg, and Pearl Yates for members of the team.

SUN IS "UNDER PAR"

Cambridge, Mass.—(ACP)—The sun is a weakling when compared to stars of its own type, research at Harvard Observatory has disclosed.

Dr. William A. Calder's work gives the first indication scientists have had that the sun is "under par." Very accurate measurement of the sun's stellar brightness is important, it seems, since the sun is used by astronomers as a unit for measuring the energy and brightness of more distant bodies.

Three Girls from Philippine Islands Enroll In S. T. C.

On September 11, three attractive Filipino girls set sail for the first time from their native land to enter college at M.S.T.C. Their names are Miss Senora "Leni" T. Alano, Miss Gloria Paz Santos, and Miss Ana "Jeanie" Virginia Benitez. The three young women enrolled at the College last Thursday.

The ship that carried them across the Pacific was the "President Grant." It was the same boat which carried President and Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin and Mr. and Mrs. Norval Sayler and Miss Mary Fisher from the Far East last summer. By a coincidence the three young women occupied the same cabin on this trip that Mr. and Mrs. Sayler did on their return trip.

The young women landed at Seattle after an 18-day ocean voyage and visited the Mt. Rainier National park while in that vicinity. During the time they were in the park the trio got their hands on snow for the first time in their lives, and thought it quite a thrill.

When they went to the American Express station in Seattle and said they wanted to go to Maryville, Mo., the station agent looked on his map and returned telling them he could not find such a place. The only place he could locate with anything like that name was Marysville, Kans. The girls knew there surely was such a place as Maryville, Mo., for they knew Pres. and Mrs. Lamkin and Mr. and Mrs. Sayler lived there, so they sent the agent for another look. They soon were relieved of their worries when the agent returned saying he had found Maryville, Mo. They boarded a train in Seattle and came to Omaha. The two-day trip was greatly enjoyed by the women. The last leg of their journey, from Omaha to Maryville was the most exciting, as they knew they soon would be at their destination. The young women were a little bewildered as to what the town would look like if it could not be found on the map.

Alighting from the train at 11:45 Wednesday night, the girls saw Mr. and Mrs. Sayler, who were waiting for them, and they knew they were in the right town at least.

When asked how they liked this country, Miss Alano answered, "Oh! I think it is wonderful." This remark went for the other two also. They mentioned the fact that they would like to travel around Maryville and see what some of the smaller towns look like.

When their interviewer made the remark that there was usually much snow here, they exclaimed, "Oh, will there be lots of snow? Then we can skate and coast. You know it will be our first time." Then they wanted to know how long it would be before the first snow.

In their native land there are no such seasons as winter or summer. On the Islands there is one season that is rainy and another that is dry. The rainy season is near its end at this time of the year. Temperatures ranged between 65 and 70 degrees just before they left. They complained of the cold weather this section has gone through the past week, as they are not used to this climate.

The colleges in their native land are conducted on the five-month semester plan; the first semester beginning in June and running to October. The second runs from October to March and from March to June is their vacation period. During this period very little rain falls and temperatures reach the upper nineties. The Islands have a very small temperature range, because of their location in the tropics.

Most of the teachers in the Manila College are natives, although there are a few American teachers. All classes are conducted in English and follow the same general routine that classes in American universities do.

The young women saw their first football game here last Friday. In their country basketball is the major sport. The team from their college won third place in the Olympic Games held in Berlin last year. This was a great honor and the girls are proud of it.

Miss Alano is taking a home economics course and is a member of the freshman class. Miss Santos will take a business course and Miss Benitez an education course. These two women are in the junior class.

Miss Santos and Miss Benitez are from Manila, Philippines and Miss Alano is from the city of Zamboanga, Philippines.

Miss Alano's father is an assemblyman in the Philippine legislature. Paterno Santos, Gloria's father, is a history professor in the University of the Philippines and Miss Benitez's father, Francisco Benitez, is Dean of the College of Education of the University of the Philippines.

The girls are pleased with the College here and its surroundings.

IS IN FORESTRY SCHOOL

Walter O. Wade, a graduate of the College in the class of 1937, is now enrolled in the School of Forestry, Moscow, Idaho. Mr. Wade writes that he enjoys his work very much, but that the campus reminds him of "good old S.T.C." He plans to work on his M. A. while in the School of Forestry.

MISS HAGGERTY RETURNS

Miss Helen Haggerty, head of the physical education department, returned Tuesday morning from Minnesota where she was called by the death of her father, Dr. M. E. Haggerty.

Dr. Haggerty, dean of the college of education of the University of Minnesota, had been ill for several days of heart disease.

Henpeck Hollow

BY CHARLES CURREY

Zekliah Wilson, better known to Henpeck Hollow associates as Henk, ceased work and wiped sweat from his face.

"Tell ye Deacon," he said to his amon'g it's too almighty hot to hold oats out here in this sun! Don't ye think 'twould be a trink for us to mosey o'er to shade trees an' set down awhile? I thought I might get sunburned I might get sunburned after tyin' them bundles; that doggone binder kin' out. I git so tired of makable bands I could beller. Then we've have been ayawin' thin' scandalous, an' seein' as we don't have no teeth, ye might imayore gutlet."

Deacon had no objections to it. They moved over to the mulberry tree at the edge of field and sat down. Heck partly lay propped against rung and he allowed his eyes over the shimmering green gold landscape that lay peacefully dreaming in the quiet summer sun.

Gooden Strong

"I goes Gooden Strong over there," remarked, pointing to a column of dust rising from the ground across the fields to him. "Have ye ever met him? Well, ye'll know him when he comes. He's a big cuss, measures han'les an' two tomato cans in his pockets an' the rest is built proportionally. Now powerful well meanin' feller, um, his wife, Nannie, shore took a spell back when she'd reform him. Ye hear about that, Deacon?"

"I did hear a little about that," Deacon admitted. "My wife was in town the other night, she was called away to the phone and got through, and she was about when she came back."

"Well, Manin' Critters tell it's a good thing I'm tellin' first," Black averred, "These ninnies are well meanin' critters, they seem to get things right and they like to make sum'big out of nuthin' at all. An' dang sight worse when there bunches of them. One will spin a lie and others will swear to it. I tell you 'nough' a bunch of them times and hear one say 'Ain't so' Marthy, an' Marthy, who got her head off, will say 'Yes' tis! What are likin' about?"

"I kinda already know, old engine is the township road tractor. If ye hain't done never take a look at that. The engine is a big, straight job with ten foot drive wheels, four inch bore. Ye know, it's kinda funny. When you're in the sun comes out the roads will warp sumthin' like sometimes they'll warp an' bend, they look like rabbit tracks in the snow. Well, whenever happens it's old Goody's job to connect ends of them an' he takes them outta them."

"Powerful Stout" Old Goody is powerful stout, can bend a flat iron with his hands. Bein' stout that way, he be a dang good worker, but he ain't. Oh, he do some mighty pertax. He keeps his awful hands when he can git anybody to pull a hair from his head, an' cut it in two six inches before it hit the ground. No one ain't awatchin' like his hands won't move at all.

"I used to rear and rave to cut the wood. One day she went to a meetin' of the Laidies Aid, an' they give her a big idea. So she came home, allowin' she was agoin' to reform him. So next day when old Goody opened his dinner bucket he didn't find nothin' but raw vittles. You know, that about killed him, 'cause he shore likes to eat. Then he found Nannie's note in the bucket, an' acted 'bout like a pup that's been caught suckin' eggs.

Easier to Buy It

Goody cut wood for a little while, but he found it was a dang sight easier to buy his dinner down to the store, so he began to go there. When Nannie found it out, boy, was she mad! Went a spittin' lightnin' bugs for a couple days. Then she up an' divorced him, an' got a grant of alimony, leavin' him to cook his own meals with a can opener.

"Did you say divorced him?" the Deacon exclaimed, "Why somebody told me she was livin' with him again!"

"Oh, that goes to show you how feather-headed a woman can be," Heck explained, "She came back a week or so ago to keep house for him. Now she's raisin' chickens an' takin' in washin' to help him pay her alimony."

ALLEN ENJOYING WORK IN ILLINOIS Y. M. C. A.

A letter from George Walter Allen, graduate of the College and well known for his interest in the Y.M.C.A. was received last week by Dr. O. Myking Mehus, telling of Mr. Allen's work in the Young Men's Christian Association at Sterling, Ill. Mr. Allen was employed by the Maryville Daily Forum before he left Maryville last spring to accept a new position as a "Y" leader at Sterling.

His letter, in part, is as follows:

"Mr. Young told me that there had been more activities for boys and young men around the building since my coming than in any ten year period. I'm not patting myself on the back for that, however.

"We have a gang of Mexican boys who hang around the building. They are not members. Many of the older "Y" fellows object seriously to their presence. One said they ought to be kicked out entirely. But I'm putting internationalism and some of your social science principles at work and this fall expect to have that crowd of Mexicans formed into a respectable, character-building club with supervised activities that will strike their favor. It can be done and the board has authorized me to go ahead with any plans I have along that line. Instead of subscribing to the sentiment "kick them out" our staff will do all we can to make their leisure count for something and make healthful citizens out of them."

To Teach Class

"The Presbyterian church wants me to begin teaching a high school class of boys next Sunday so my Sundays will be partly taken. All of this work is so worthwhile. The hours are long. Most of the time I am on the job from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. But it is worth it. It has been nearly five months since I came to Sterling and have made some very fine contacts and feel quite at home.

"I am certain that I will have a brief leave to come home Xmas, spending Dec. 25 and 26 in Maryville—one of the things I miss most will be the Y.M.C.A.'s fellowship in welcome to the freshmen. I will be thinking of the "Y" in that endeavor and regret that I must miss the first one in eight years.

Many High School Choristers to Sing In District Group

All-Northwest Missouri Boys and Girls to Present Program Tonight and in Morning

At the Northwest Missouri Teacher's meeting to be held here today and tomorrow, a chorus composed of high school pupils from nineteen counties of Northwest Missouri will provide entertainment for the visitors. Mr. LaVerne E. Irvine, Chairman of the Music department of the College, will direct the chorus.

In 1935, an orchestra was selected, in 1936, a band, and this year a mixed chorus is being selected as the entertainment.

Due to the fact that students from Maryville high school can participate with no expense to themselves or the teachers association, they will by far outnumber any other single group. The response has been so great from the call for voices that Mr. Irvine's greatest trouble is that of elimination, while keeping a good balance of parts.

The program will be one in commemoration of the Sesquicentennial of the Constitution of the United States. The chorus will sing at the general session beginning at 7:45 o'clock in the College auditorium tonight, and again at the general session beginning at 9 o'clock in the auditorium tomorrow morning.

NEXT WEEK'S ASSEMBLY PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

The assembly program for Oct. 20 will be furnished by the Conservatory of Music under the direction of Mr. LaVerne E. Irvine. There will be musical numbers by the various ensembles of the department, and the College band will play selections. The remainder of the program will be devoted to assembly singing. It is felt that students will welcome the opportunity of partaking in assembly singing as it fosters the betterment of school spirit and produces a unity of feeling among the students.

This program is one of the series of "Know Your College" programs being presented during assembly hour. Learning to know the music department should indeed prove to be worthwhile, interesting, and educational.

SURREY TO SPEAK

Mr. Sterling Surrey of the department of economics, will speak at the regular meeting of the Social Science club, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Social Hall on the subject "Futility of Seeking Peace." The Social Science club meetings, which are held in conjunction with the meeting of the International Relations club, are open to any one who cares to come. Majors and minors in social science are especially invited.

DIRECTS CHORUS

Mr. LaVerne E. Irvine, chairman of the conservatory of music, who will direct the Northwest Missouri high school chorus at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the College auditorium.

Symphony Orchestra Begins Rehearsals

The College symphony orchestra was organized last week with twenty-four members present. During the absence of Miss Alline Fentress, the regular conductor, Mr. LaVerne Irvine will direct the orchestra.

Miss Fentress, who has been absent from school on account of illness, will return to the campus next week to resume her duties.

Mr. Irvine says of the orchestra: "There is every indication that the orchestra, like the band and chorus, will be larger and better than it has been for the last two years. At some time during the year, the orchestra will give an assembly program, and of course, there will be several public programs."

The orchestra personnel at present is composed of clarinets, Willard Heal and Harold Hainline; violins, Helen Shipman, Marian Kirk, Marion Burr, Agnes Kourtz, Dorothy Allen, Harriet Fries, and Hattie Richards; trombones, Ruth Wray, Robert Paul; trumpets, Jean Schneider, Donald Moyer, Frank Baker, jr., Ralph Moyer; saxophones, Bernice Murray, and Ruthanna Noel; baritones, Robert Paul and Lynn Bickett; basses, Bruce Coffman, Lynn Bickett, and Helen Reed; flute, Clara Lippman; French horn, Mynatt Breidenthal; piano, Allan Bing.

The orchestra rehearses at 11 o'clock on Tuesday mornings and 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoons. Any College student who can qualify to play in the orchestra is cordially invited to join.

INVENTS FATIGUE MASK

Minneapolis, Minn.—(ACP)—A new oxygen mask to protect mental workers from fatigue caused by thinking was described to the American Psychological Association by Dr. Arthur G. Bills of the University of Cincinnati.

Delivering to the breather a combination of about 50 per cent pure oxygen mixed with air, the mask uses cuts in half the number of pauses per minute that come to persons doing brain work. These pauses are the result of mental fatigue—the brain taking a short rest.

The new oxygen mask is the final step in a series of experiments which appear to prove the theory that fatigue is not due so much to the brain becoming "tired" as to failure of the blood to supply all the oxygen the brain wanted. Dr. Bills has been testing this idea for several years.

ONE OUT OF THREE H. S. GRADS NOW IN COLLEGE

Washington, D. C.—(ACP)—One out of three boys and girls who finished high school last year, will be on a campus this fall, experts at the federal office of education have figured.

From all sections of the country come reports that college enrollments are reaching new peaks.

Better economic conditions have been generally credited for the upward swing, and in some instances applications for admission have been rejected for lack of room.

Teachers Here for 20th Annual Meet

A short musical program was given by the conservatory of music after which Mr. Booth gave the address, "Horace Mann." The Honorable Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of schools, then gave an address, followed by Mr. Roscoe V. Cramer, president of the Missouri State Teachers Association, who spoke on "Forward Movement in Education in Missouri." Dr. Carl Sandburg, poet and lecturer, then addressed the association on "Romanticism and Lyricism in American Art and Literature."

The third general session will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium with Mr. Claude K. Thompson, first vice-president of the Association, presiding. Mr. Rennie Smith, English journalist and lecturer, will give an address "Current Events and Their Significance," followed by the adjournment.

With a large number of teachers already here for the meeting and more arriving today, this year's meeting promises to be one of the largest and most successful in the history of the Association.

This year the Association offers to the members a fine program. Among the speakers on the program for the meeting are the following: Honorable Lloyd W. King, state superintendent of schools; Mr. Edgar G. Doudna, secretary and director of the board of regents, State of Wisconsin Normal Schools; Dr. Roscoe V. Cramer, president of the Missouri State Teachers Association; Mr. Gerald P. Nye, United States senator from North Dakota; Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the Chicago University chapel; Mr. Rennie Smith, London, journalist and lecturer; and Dr. Carl Sandburg, poet and lecturer.

In addition to the fine program and the excellent speakers offered, Thursday and Friday have been designated as "Homecoming Days" for all graduates and former students of the College. Tonight in the West Library, a Homecoming Dance and reception will be given starting at 9:30 o'clock, and tomorrow night the Homecoming football game between the Springfield Bears and the Bearcats will be played on the athletic field beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

Various organizations of the College are also having Homecoming luncheons and dinners for returning members. Therefore, the teachers will find that there is plenty to do during the meeting of the association.

The Northwest Missouri District High School Chorus, conducted by Mr. LaVerne E. Irvine, director of the College conservatory of music will give a program this evening at 7:45 o'clock, and again tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The chorus has been an attraction of the meeting for several years.

It's as old as the World, and as young as the Morning—This desire for the likeness of our friends. Let your Tower picture do double duty. Crow Photographs.

BRASS ENSEMBLE IS ACTIVE

The College brass ensemble, a new organization on the campus this year, has been quite active the past week. This group went to the Hickory Stick convention at Mandeville on Sunday, October 3, to give a concert. On Monday evening, October 4, it gave a short concert at a pot-luck supper held at the Christian church.

The group is composed of Ralph Moyer, first trumpet; Frank Junior Baker, second trumpet; Mynatt Breidenthal, French horn; and Charles Lyddon, baritone euphonium.

The ensemble is under the direction of Mr. Clare Wigell.

BOOK CLUB MEETS

The College Book Club met last Monday night at the home of Dr. Anna M. Painter. Carl Sandburg was discussed.

Ted Tyson of Skidmore was chosen chairman for the ensuing year. Medieval Christmas carols will be discussed at the November and December meetings.

Bearcats Meet Springfield Here

Springfield was defeated by the Bearcats last year, 13 to 0, and are favored to win tomorrow night. However, Coach Andy McDonald has been working his boys overtime on line plays and pass defense this week, and believes his chances for victory are good.

The Bears are the underdogs in the M.I.A.A. this year, but with nothing to lose, they will likely make the sky the limit on anything that might mean a triumph. A wide-open tussle, one that a football fan dotes on, is expected.

Coach Ryland Milner has not announced a Maryville starting eleven. He probably will use two full teams against the invading Springfield team. Following is a list who probably will see service in the line: Cox, Zuchowski, Baker and Walker, ends; Molitoris, Kious, Irvine and Howell, tackles; M. Rogers, Zembles, Loos and Nickel, guards; Richards and Kruse, centers. Backfield posts will be filled by: Reital, Pandolphe, Paisley, and Kurtright, quarterbacks; Bernau, W. Moore, Brewer, R. Moore and Curtis, half-backs; and Pelc and McLaughlin, full-backs. However, backfield posts may be shifted if necessary.

C. H. S. SENDS DELEGATE TO ST. JOSEPH MEET
